

Terms

At Studio JT, we are dedicated to creating a better web. From website publishing tools to e-commerce solutions, security backup systems, management tools for distributed companies, to next-generation ideas not yet conceived, we hope you love our products and services as much as we enjoy creating them.

These Terms of Service ("Terms") outline our commitments to you and your rights and responsibilities when using our services. Please read them carefully and feel free to contact us if you have any questions. If you do not agree with these Terms, you are not permitted to use our services.

1. Acceptance and Amendment of Terms

- Please read these Terms carefully before using the services. By using the services, you are deemed to have accepted these Terms.
- The company reserves the right to amend these Terms within the limits allowed by law, and any changes will be notified through service announcements or emails.

2. Beta Service Description

- The Beta Service is an experimental version aimed at improvement based on user feedback before the official launch.
- The service is not final, and some features may be limited or different. User feedback is invaluable and contributes to the improvement of the final version.

3. Use of Feedback and Data

- The company values user feedback as an essential resource for service improvement. Not all feedback will be directly incorporated.
- Feedback may be selectively used after internal review and may be treated confidentially.

- The company is not obligated to provide individual responses to all feedback.

4. Termination and Transition

- Upon the conclusion of the Beta Service period, the company will guide users towards transitioning to the official version.
- Sites created during the Beta Service period will be scheduled for deletion after a certain period post-termination if no specific action is taken during the transition. User membership information will be retained, and backing up important data is recommended.

5. Disclaimer

- Understanding of Service Provision: During the Beta Service period, the company provides the service "as is." This means the service may not be final or complete, and no warranty is made regarding the service's completeness, stability, accuracy, or suitability. Users bear all risks associated with using the Beta Service.
- Technical Issues: During the Beta Service period, the company is not responsible for temporary service interruptions or accessibility issues due to technical problems, system maintenance, or updates.
- Data Loss: The company is not liable for any data loss or damage that may occur during the Beta Service period. Users are responsible for backing up important data, and regular backups are strongly recommended.
- Third-Party Services: The Beta Service may include links to third-party websites or services, and the company is not responsible for the content of such external services.
- Limitation of Liability: During the Beta Service period, the company is not liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages arising from the use of the service. This includes data loss, business interruption, lost profits, or opportunities, even if the possibility of such damages was previously known.
- Limitation of Liability under Applicable Law: Some jurisdictions may not allow the exclusion of implied warranties or the limitation of liability for incidental or consequential damages. Therefore, the above limitations may not apply to all users.
- Use of AI Technology: Some of the services we provide may utilize AI technology. While AI is a powerful tool, it is not infallible and may occasionally produce errors in processing information or generating outcomes. We disclaim all liability for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages arising from any mistakes, errors, omissions, or inaccuracies in the information generated by AI. By utilizing the AI features of our services, users acknowledge and accept these risks.

6. Account

If the use of our services requires an account, you must provide complete and accurate information to us and keep that information up to date. This ensures we can deliver information about your account (e.g., changes to the Terms of Service, Privacy Policy, and other important updates).

We may restrict your access to our services until we can verify your account information, such as your email address.

Creating a Qtandard account will be considered an inquiry about our products and services, meaning we may contact you to share details about what we need to offer (e.g., marketing). Don't worry, you can opt out of marketing communications if you're not interested.

You are fully responsible for all activities under your account. You are also solely responsible for maintaining the security of your account (including password security). We are not liable for any losses caused by any action or inaction on your part. If you get fired because of a blog post you wrote about your boss, that's on you.

Do not share or misuse your access credentials. And if you become aware of any unauthorized use or other security breaches of your account, store, or website, please notify us immediately. If we believe your account has been compromised, we may suspend or deactivate it.

To understand how we process the data you provide to us, please refer to our Privacy Policy.

7. Responsibilities of Visitors and Users

We have not reviewed, and cannot review, all of the content (e.g., text, photos, videos, audio, code, computer software, items for sale, and other materials) posted to or made available through our services or linked or connected websites or other persons ("Content"). We are not responsible for the use or effects of such Content or third-party websites. For example:

- We do not control third-party websites.
- A link to any of our services does not imply or suggest that we endorse the third-party website.
- We do not warrant any Content and do not claim that Content is accurate, useful, or harmless. Content may be offensive, inappropriate, objectionable, contain technical inaccuracies, typographical mistakes, or other errors. It may also infringe or violate the privacy, public rights, intellectual property rights, or other proprietary rights of third parties.
- You are solely responsible for the content provided on your website and any damage resulting from that content. It is your responsibility to ensure that your website content complies with applicable laws and contracts.
- We are not liable for any damage resulting from someone's access, use, purchase, or download of Content, or for any damage resulting from third-party websites. You are responsible for taking necessary precautions to protect yourself and your computer systems from viruses, worms, Trojan horses, and other harmful or destructive Content.
- All Content sold through our services is the sole responsibility of the seller, so you are only liable to the seller for any damage arising from the purchase or use of Content.
 - We are not a party to, and have no responsibility or obligation for, any communications, transactions, interactions, or disputes between you and any provider of Content.

Please be aware that additional third-party terms of service may apply to Content you download, copy, purchase, or use.

8. Your Obligations

Our mission is to create a better web, and our services are designed to give you control and ownership of your website. Feel free to express yourself freely within a few requirements. In particular, when using our services, you represent and warrant that you will:

- Strictly comply with these Terms
- Comply with all applicable laws and regulations (including but not limited to all applicable laws regarding online conduct and acceptable content, licensing, privacy, data protection, the export of technical data from South Korea or the country in which you reside, the use or provision of financial services, notifications and consumer protection, unfair competition, false advertising)
- Not be used for illegal purposes, to post illegal content, or to conduct illegal activities.
- Not infringe or unjustly use Qtandard's or a third party's intellectual property rights.
- Not overload our system or impose an unreasonable or disproportionately large load on our infrastructure (as determined by us in our sole discretion)
- Not disclose anyone's personal information.
- Not be used to send spam or any bulk unsolicited messages.
- Not be used to interfere with or disrupt the services or networks.
- Not be used to create, operate, or be associated with malware, spyware, adware, or other malicious programs or codes.
- Not be used to attempt to derive the source code of the services or related technology through reverse engineering, decompilation, disassembly, decryption, or other means.
- Represent and warrant that you will not use, rent, lease, sublicense, distribute, transfer, copy, reproduce, download, display, modify, time-share, or exploit any portion of the service or related data without our consent.

9. Dispute Resolution

- All disputes arising out of or related to these Terms or the use of the services shall be interpreted according to the laws of the Republic of Korea, and we will strive to resolve disputes.
- If disputes cannot be resolved, the court with jurisdiction over the company's address will have exclusive jurisdiction.

Effective from February 29, 2024
